Hello,

From a police perspective this project would only add to an already tough situation our police department faces. We are an exceptionally busy agency, and our field manpower has not been increased since my entering the department in 1987.

If our police department was able to keep pace with the population growth, I would support any new housing coming to our community. As outlined in multiple town reports, lack of manpower is the greatest challenge we face, and the residents of this new neighborhood deserve the best protection we can give them.

Thanks,
John W.
