Dear Community Center Planning Committee,

I just recently learned about your vision for the next phase of the Decas Elementary School and wanted to introduce myself.

I am a cartoonist, experienced art educator and the author. I'm currently producing a graphic novel with Workman Press Publishing about mental health and meant for an adolescent audience (to be released Fall 2023). My work as an art educator is about providing drawing and creativity workshops which explore how the beginning of complex ideas emerge from the simple act of doodling on paper. My creativity and art classes are available to an array of ages and abilities. I am especially interested in social and emotional learning, storytelling, drawing, and literacy. You can learn more about my work at my website: <https://www.carabeancomics.com/>

I am looking for a classroom would be interested in renting a space in your community center in the future and hope that you might consider my unique offerings.

Thanks for working to make a special place for the residents of Wareham.

Best wishes,

Cara Bean
